Reports and Announcements:

General Manager Curtis Kayton reported TSGT has rolled out its new Long Term Financial Forecast. The greatest difference between now and March of 2025 is that the increases are less in the short term and greater in the later term. The Natural Gas project has been paused, and there are other reconsiderations that will have a delayed effect on borrowing but in the end will deliver the same wholesale cost.

The Colorado climate crusade has made the news again.... This time with the Colorado Heat Rule. This rule endeavors to reduce CO2 emissions by 41% using 2015 as a baseline. This rule will effectively prohibit home heating with Natural Gas and somehow shift those heating needs to electricity.
